In a professional relationship, sexual intimacy is never appropriate and should be immediately reported to the Director of the Division of Registrations of DORA.

John Aguilar, Jr.'s training and experience in the recommendation and application of adjunctive therapies and herbs are defined by traditional Oriental medical and yogic concepts. He is not a licensed Medical Doctor (M.D.), and his yoga services are complementary to healing arts licensed by the state, but art are not, themselves, licensed.

Treatment may include traditional Oriental medical services, such as acupuncture, Chinese massage (Tuī Ná), moxibustion, cupping, Guā Shā (gentle therapeutic scraping of the skin), Chinese herbal medicine, Qì Gōng (Chinese exercise), diet therapy, and lifestyle counseling, as well as yoga therapy services, which include physical postures, breathing practices, meditation, chanting, and marma point therapy (yoga's use of points on the body similar to acupuncture points).
